

TO THE BAG

ALMANAC ERRATA ERRATA

To the Bag:

This erratum business is harder than it looks! On page 7 of the 2007 Almanac, the Green Bag admits to a mistake on page 8 of 2006, saying that Bob Berring extolled Mary Willson, not “Mary Wilson.” Well, the mistake was on page 10 of 2006. And in fact Bob extolled Mr. Meredith Wilson, not “Mary” anybody. (2006 had “Meredith” right.) Typos happen. I’ve been astonished at some of my own work in print, which reveals typos in passages that I, my friends, and my editor had all gone over. Dang.

Mary Whisner

Gallagher Law Library, University of Washington School of Law

P.S. Hey, maybe the next iteration could extol me:

Meredith Wilson → Mary Willson → Mary Whisner. Why not?

THE CURTIS CONTROVERSY

To the Bag:

Enclosed is my request for a Curtis bobblehead. Sadly I had to mutilate my copy of the current issue to order it. It saddened me to do so. Avarice trumped my desire to maintain the integrity of the volume.

Sincerely,

Avern Cohn

United States District Court, Eastern District of Michigan